

Trigon in Prinsenhof Delft

Contributed by Administrator
Sunday, 14 October 2007
Last Updated Sunday, 14 October 2007

This summer and autumn ensemble Trigon has been recording the chant from the Agatha manuscript. This manuscript belongs to the collection of Museum Prinsenhof in Delft (NL). The building of the museum used to be a convent of sisters of the Third Order, the Agatha Convent. The manuscript contains chant used in the entrance rituals for the novices. Ensemble Trigon is the first to sing and record parts of this manuscript. The recordings can now be heard in one of the exposition rooms of the museum.